Such matters included talk about their sexual experiences. The individuals indicated that would use his knowledge about their personal life to gain their trust and once they graduated, would ask to meet with them and invite them to places. The individuals also alleged that shared very personal information with them about his marital relationship and sexual experiences. They felt as if was trying to have a sexual/intimate relationship with them once they graduated. They also believe that is using his position as a professor and advisor to groom students while in school and after graduation. MC shares this information with and explains that if the allegations are true, then the behavior is problematic and could be viewed as harassment or a violation of the code of faculty ethics. As this point, the allegations haven't been proven and the individuals don't wish to file an official complaint for investigation purposes but they want the behavior to stop. MC says that he will follow up with once he speaks to the anonymous individuals.
